	are there any obligations on the retailer that the meat was sourced from a fmd/disease free producer or supplier?
4	please explain briefly.	Aurick Swartbooi	embaleshamba@polka.co.za
	I meant to ask are there any obligations on retailers to disclose that the meat was sourced from a fmd/disease free producer/supplier?
5		Aurick Swartbooi	embaleshamba@polka.co.za	Currently, there is no regulation that explicitly highlights this.	Nicolette Matthews	MatthewsN@ufs.ac.za are the time frames with vaccination and production realistic if this is only a government responsibility? it appears that there is a challenge with how much farmers are allowed to do?excellent manufacturing productivity in south africa is not a strength unfortunately?
6		Aurick Swartbooi	embaleshamba@polka.co.za	Whether it would prove to be realistic, we would have to wait and see. Private vets can also vaccinate; they have to register to vaccinate. But that could increase the rate at which vaccinations happen.	Nicolette Matthews	MatthewsN@ufs.ac.za

7	I joined a bit late but I am curious to know whether it has been proven that all the disinfection solutions for the washers, for instance, are environmentally safe or they still hold risk to water and/or soil pollution no matter their formulation?	Sisipho Mpotulo	sgmpotulo@gmail.com	I think others would be better able to answer you. But my advice would be to look at the active ingredients to see if they would be environmentally safe.	Nicolette Matthews	MatthewsN@ufs.ac.za
8	Are clients happy to pay for extra time/equipment for these extra protocols?	Sandy van der waal	sandyvanderwaal@gmail.com
9	Please share protocols and indemnity forms so that we may also share this with relevant clients i.e. mining companies working on various farms at the same time. johmandie@enviro-eap.co.za	Johmandie Pienaar	johmandie@enviro-eap.co.za
